

ANALYST AND ASSOCIATE POSITIONS

Veracity has ambitious growth plans for 2018 and we are interested in meeting intelligent and motivated professionals who would be appropriate for Analyst or Associate positions as they become available in New York.

Analysts and Associates at Veracity support the company's due diligence and political risk work. They conduct detailed research in a range of emerging markets and produce concise, analytical, and tailored written due diligence reports. They also support Veracity's political risk, emerging market strategy, and dispute resolution practice areas, including conducting research and analysis for stakeholder mapping, country risk assessments, market entry analysis, and complex investigations. These roles entail wide-ranging exposure to the firm's global activities and are well-suited to individuals who have relevant professional experience or who is passionate about international affairs and the intersection of business and politics. Responsibilities of Analysts and Associates include:

- ▶ Conducting detailed research on individuals and companies in global emerging markets through the lens of client interests
- ▶ Producing high-quality written reports that clearly convey research and analysis and are directly responsive to client needs
- ▶ Assisting senior colleagues in determining the scope of potential projects and supporting business development and marketing efforts

QUALIFICATIONS

- ▶ Recent graduates with relevant and strong educational backgrounds (see below) and demonstrated capabilities
- ▶ 1-4 years' professional experience in management consulting, investigations and anti-corruption due diligence, or emerging markets research
- ▶ Education to Bachelor's or Master's degree level (business, international relations, politics, or related concentrations preferred)
- ▶ Native or professional foreign-language skills are valued
- ▶ Astute problem-solving and innovating analytical skills
- ▶ Strong interest in and knowledge of business trends in emerging markets and of the international anti-corruption industry
- ▶ Attention to detail; track record of producing high-quality and concise written analysis pieces
- ▶ Excellent time management skills; ability to work with minimal supervision and to handle a highly diverse set of requirements at any given time
- ▶ Demonstrated proficiency with MS Word, PowerPoint, and Excel

- ▶ US work authorization

TO BE CONSIDERED

If your qualifications and experience are appropriate and you would like to learn more about Veracity, please send an email to recruiting@veracityworldwide.com with the subject line “Analyst/Associate New York” and include the following:

- ▶ 1-page resume / CV
- ▶ Cover letter including an explanation of your suitability for the role